raments during times when the pastor is not available.

We are almost halfway of the month of November, and before we know it, it's already ending. Yes, the liturgical year is about to end. We are now on the 33rd Sunday of our liturgical year, which will end next Sunday as we celebrate the Solemnity of Christ, the King of the universe. Then, begins another liturgical year, which starts during advent. We wonder how time flies, it wasn't just a long while that we celebrated the All Saints' day and Souls' day at the beginning of the month of November but now we are looking at already the of end of this month. This also makes us look forward of the coming month which is an activity-filled month so to say. But we take it one after the other, so better not dwell there yet but let's have our glance to the things that need our attention. So this month of November we dedicate this as Catholics in remembrance for all the dead.

The church teaches us that it is not only on November 2 that we remember the dead but the whole month of November is dedicated to them. In fact during the eight days, from November 1 to 8 plenary indulgence is granted to those who visit the cemetery, and after, only partial indulgence. So, let us not waste this time, we must prioritize them at least during this period of the year where our beloved dead, in a special way are remembered.

Eternal Rest grant unto them Oh Lord, and let your perpetual light shine upon them. May they rest in peace. Amen!
